

Two-Year-Old Source to the World

The Juvenile Sale Season is Off and Running

The 2014 OBS juvenile sale season gets underway in March in Ocala. Horsemen from across the county and around the world will once again have the opportunity to buy the type of outstanding athletes that won graded stakes from coast to coast and overseas in 2013. These horses have truly made OBS "The Two-Year-Old Source To the World"

Making the Grade

Residual Value

OBS grads also reward buyers after racing. Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner I'll Have Another currently stands at Big Red Farm in Japan as does OBS alumnus, Roses In May. Midnight Lute, the first repeat winner of the Breeders' Cup Sprint (G1), is off to a strong start at stud, ranking second on the third crop sire list in North America. Kitten's Joy has gone from OBS graduate to Eclipse award winner to leading sire in North America in 2013. On the distaff side Plum Pretty, a millionaire on the racetrack, was also a millionaire in the sales ring, bringing $4.2 million as a broodmare prospect, and champion Musical Romance was sold for $1.6 million after retiring from racing. Multiple graded winner Wickedly Perfect brought $800,000 when her racing days were completed.

A Championship Legacy

Beginning with champions Brave Raj and Groovy in the 1980's, OBS grads have long succeeded at racing's highest levels. Sixty-one OBS juvenile graduates have earned $1-million or more and garnered a total of 26 Eclipse Awards, including Horse of the Year awards by Skip Away and Favorite Trick. OBS juvenile sale grads have won twenty-one Breeders' Cup events and five classics, with Lil E. Tee taking the 1992 Kentucky Derby and Silver Charm (1997) and I'll Have Another (2012) winning both the Derby and Preakness.

Last year's March Sale produced undefeated Asia Express, Japan's 2013 champion two-year-old colt. The winner of the $1.3-million Asahi Hai Futurity (G1) at Nakayama Racecourse in December, he's three for three and has earned 88,131,000 yen (est. $850,000 U.S.) to date.
