Bid

This screenshot shows the initial bidding screen for Lot 1. A red callout bubble labeled "Asking Price" points to a red bar at the bottom of the interface that displays "$10,000 Bid". Above this bar are input fields for "Enter Amt" and a green "Add Max Bid" button. The text "Current Bid:" and "High Bidder:" is visible at the top of the bidding section.

You will see this screen once the auctioneer has begun selling the horse in the ring. The $10,000 in the red bar is the Asking Price. It is important to remember the price in the bid bar (red) is ALWAYS the Asking Price. A red bid bar indicates it is active. Click on it to bid.

Bid Pending
$40,000

This screenshot shows the bidding interface after a bid has been placed. A red callout bubble labeled "Your Bid" points to a dark red bar at the bottom that displays "$40,000". The text "Bid Pending" is written above the bar. The "Current Bid" is now $30,000 by an "Onsite" bidder. The left sidebar lists various bid history items.

The "Bid Pending" notice indicates you have bid $40,000 and waiting for the auctioneer to accept it.

The current high bid of $30,000 located on the top of this section is the recognized bid prior to your bid.

The left side of this section tracks all the bids on the current horse.

$50,000

This screenshot shows the bidding interface after becoming the high bidder. A red callout bubble labeled "Your Bid" points to the "Current Bid" of $40,000 by the "Internet" bidder. Another red callout bubble labeled "Asking Price" points to a brown bar at the bottom that displays "$50,000". The text "You Are Now High Bidder" is written above the bar. The left sidebar lists bid history.

You are now high bidder" indicates you currently have the leading bid. At the top of this section, the "Current Bid" of $40,000 is the amount you bid.

The $50,000 displayed in the brown bid bar is the Asking Price for the next bid.

When you are the high bidder you cannot bid again until you are outbid.
